Have Your Say

There are many ways to communicate effectively with the school. The first point of call is always your classroom teacher, book an appointment directly or through your class rep.

The P&C members or meetings are great avenue to talk through broader issues and relevant issues raised are communicated to the school office and Board by the liaison officer: efpspc@gmail.com

The school Board can be helpful if it is an issue at a policy or school wide level. They can be contacted through the front office.

The front office is a great place to ask specific questions and raise concerns. They can also direct you to a helpful person, such as our vice principals, chaplain or book an appointment with the Principal if needed.

Once every 2 years there is a parent survey where you can comment on a range of issues relating to the school and have your say. The data from this survey is collated by the school and presented to the Board.

The Education Department has a feedback procedure.
